

Dial 211 from a land line or from a cell or any type phone dial: 706- 232- 0210. Mon - Fri, 8:30 am – 5:00 pm. (Bilingual: English and Spanish).

211 is a 3-digit call number like 911, except 211 is not for emergencies. Call 211 or 706-232-0210 to connect people with social services. Call agents provide information and referral regarding community resources available in Rome and Floyd County.

211 is free information and a confidential call. Also, the 211 Community Resource Directory is online at: www.romefloyd.com. There are 10 resource directories providing information about over 150 Floyd County agencies, non-profits, and ministries which offer community resources.

211 connects people to get help, to give help, to volunteer, or to donate to community organizations. All area codes are 706 unless otherwise noted. The Rome-Floyd County 211 Information and Referral Line is sponsored by a collaboration of the City of Rome, Floyd County Government, and the United Way. Thank you to our collaborators and donor who help to sponsor this service.

Please note every effort is made to keep this Community Resource Directory updated, however if there are any corrections or to apply to be included contact: bradshawj@floydcountyga.org. An organization's listing in this resource guide does not constitute an endorsement by 211 of the organization or its services. Please note this list was updated as of January 2011.
